

Unfinished Boat

Camden, N. J., Jan. 18 (AP)—Thorwald Anderson's dream of building his own boat and sailing to the South Seas will never be fulfilled. For two years he worked on the boat, completed last week save for a few finishing touches. Yesterday, a friend found the 51-year-old toolmaker dead in a half-finished bunk in the hold.

At the outbreak of hostilities, it was estimated that the Germans could put 50,000 trained dogs in the field, a canine battalion being attached to each regiment of infantry.

To Every Man and Woman in a Nervous, Weak and Rundown Condition Due to Vitamin and Mineral Deficiency

United Cut Rate Pharmacy Will Sell You a Two Weeks' Treatment of $1.50 Size of Vitrolets Capsules Containing Six Vitamins and Eight Minerals

WHY WE MAKE THIS OFFER

That every man and woman suffering from the many ailments due to vitamin and mineral deficiency can now try at a very modest cost, this excellent two weeks' treatment in easy to take capsule form.

Few people today disagree on the importance of vitamins and minerals. The only question is how to get all six of the essential vitamins, and also the important minerals, such as calcium, iron, copper, and phosphorus. Most of us are deficient in some or all of these vitamins and minerals.

Vitamin B aids growth and appetite, and calms certain nervous conditions.

Vitamin C is indicated for the prevention of pyorrhea and scurvy. Science tells us that many so-called kinds of neuritis, rheumatism, and arthritis are really mild forms of scurvy.

Vitamin D helps to prevent rickets, and enables the body to properly utilize calcium and phosphorus in building sound bones and teeth.

Vitamin G has been found to aid growth and vitality, and to correct certain abnormal conditions of the skin and nerves.

Consequently in VITROLETS Capsules we have included six important vitamins, A-B-C-D-E and G.

Minerals, too, are essential and necessary for health. Calcium and phosphorus assist in building and maintaining sound teeth and bones. Iron and copper are required in the blood, manganese, sodium, and potassium also have a definite place in the body makeup. All of these are included in VITROLETS Capsules, thereby supplying such deficiencies so frequently associated with run-down conditions and susceptibility to colds.

Thousands upon thousands have sung the praises of vitamins, and now we offer you VITROLETS Capsules, containing not only six vitamins, but also eight important minerals in easy to take capsules. You owe it to yourself to try VITROLETS for the promotion of health, vitality and beauty.

MARLBOROUGH

Marlborough, Jan. 18.—The annual election of officers and directors for the First National Bank of Marlborough was held last week. J. A. Hepworth remains president of the bank, C. Gedney Mackey and Wilbur J. Haviland, vice-presidents, and Edmund W. Carpenter, cashier. The directors are J. A. Hepworth, C. Gedney Mackey, Wilbur J. Haviland, John Manion, Sr., and Frank N. Johnston.

Election of officers for the Marlborough Sportsman's Association was held last week, and those named to office for 1940 were: president, Joseph L. Cassels; vice-president, Joseph Dall Vechia; treasurer, Charles Brown; secretary, C. Andrew Knapp; director for five years, James Burns. The meeting was held at the home of James Festa on Western avenue.

A calendar social will be held Thursday evening in the lecture room of the Presbyterian Church by the January group with Mrs. Fred Velie general chairman in charge of the arrangements, assisting her will be the Rev. Claude McIntosh, Mrs. Frank Baker and Mrs. Wilbur Haviland. Twelve tables will be trimmed to represent the months of the year. One hostess has been appointed for each table and she will have charge of decorating that table and securing 11 guests besides herself. Entertainment will include an illustrated travel talk by Rev. R. Mallory, pastor of the Walden Reformed Church. The Rev. Mr. Mallory will show three reels of film, one of Lake Mohonk, Lake Minnewaska and other points of interest in this vicinity, the second will be on a trip around the Gaspe peninsula and the third Alaska. Music will also be featured.

Regents in the Marlborough Central School will begin on Monday, January 22, and continue until January 26. There are but a few students taking the January Regents, and classes will continue throughout the week. Mid-year examinations will be given the same week in the school.

Mumps have made an appearance in the local school and there are 9 absent from the district.

Miss Olive Altken spent the week-end at her home.

Christie Tuthill is in Florida, where he is visiting his mother, who is spending the winter months.

Mrs. Frank Grinnell left Monday for a trip to Mexico, and plans to be gone about three weeks. She was accompanied by her sister from Connecticut.

Miss Muriel Rall, second grade teacher in the Marlborough Central School resumed her duties Monday after being ill in her home on South road for the past week.

Mrs. Henry Steffins is spending a few weeks visiting in Pocomoke City, Md. She will also visit relatives in Virginia before returning to her home.

Mrs. Max Howard and infant son, David, returned home from St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude McIntosh entertained last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Charles Brown was hostess to the card party Tuesday evening. The T. H. E. Club met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Harry Rich.

Mrs. William Quinn was hostess to the Quilting Party held last week. Those attending were: Mrs. William Quinn, Mrs. Lillian Downer, Mrs. Agnes Burnham, Mrs. Francis Walsh, Mrs. Vernon Meyers, Mrs. Russell Aitkens and Mrs. Charles Atkins. The next party will be held January 18.

Mrs. William Quinn was given a surprise party in her home last Saturday evening by a number of her friends and relatives. Games and dancing were enjoyed, with "Chuck" Swartz, James Albertson and Vincent DeFabio playing music for the dancing. Those attending the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Meyers, Miss Robena Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Masten, Miss Harriett Masten, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Atkins, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Mertes, Mrs. Agnes Burham, Carsyle DuBois, Evelyn Bolomer, Mrs. Edward Downer, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Walsh and family, Ned Monihan, Marge Tompkins, James Albertson, Vincent DeFabio, Lyman DuBois, George Quinn, Jack Clark, William Murphy, Pat Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. William Quinn.

Birds and animals often starve to death in the midst of plenty . . . because they do not know that unfamiliar foods are good to eat . . . for instance, it took two or three years for quail in Florida and Georgia to find out that millet and other grains, planted for them, were good to eat.

Legislature Proposes

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP)—Necessity of a new tax to balance New York's 1940-41 budget, reliably reported to be under $400,000,000, brought demands from legislators today for a "reserve" levy to be ineffective if other state incomes increase as expected.

The impost, to be revealed Monday as part of Governor Lehman's spending program, was authoritatively declared to propose tapping further a present source of revenue and caused speculation that it would be either:

An additional tax on personal income by reducing exemptions or increasing the rate of the levy, or Extension of the present cigarette tax to include all tobacco.

While opposed to any form of new tax, especially in the presidential year, Republican majority leaders saw an "out" in selection of a revenue source that would become operative in January 1941. Adoption of such a tax, they pointed out, would permit balancing the budget and could be repealed by the next legislature without any collection being made if economic conditions continue to improve and other taxes bring increased returns.

Economy Is Only Issue in State, Declares Sears

Editor, The Freeman:

According to today's papers the Governor, as the leader of the Democratic party in the state, and the Republican controlled legislature have agreed upon the budget. From reliable sources the budget of this year will very likely be $405,000,000 — $17,000,000 larger than last year, unless the taxpayers and citizens of the state act immediately.

On the face it would seem that the Democrats have put one over on the Republicans.

What was the power behind the secret conference that appears to have agreed to further burden the taxpayers of the state with a $17,000,000 increase? Was it the pressure of the school and highway interests coupled with other minority groups?

Maybe the pressure of the unorganized but majority group of the forgotten taxpayer will change the minds of the Republican legislators and persuade them to break away from their unholy alliance with the spendthrift Democratic crowd.

Do the Republicans think that such tactics will endear them to the voters next fall? If so, they have guessed wrong.

There is only one issue in government in New York state today and that is economy in governmental expenditures and lower taxes.

If the Republican party does not meet the issue at the present time in voting the budget but decides to go along with the increased taxing and spending program of the Democrats, then the people will know where the blame lies for increased tax levies and will see to it that the Republican party remains the minority party.

I appeal to every citizen of the county in the interest of economy in the government and lower taxes to write or wire your senator and assemblyman telling them you expect them to vote for a lower budget than last year and no sales tax.

Respectfully yours,

HERBERT SEARS.

Weight control is similar to budget-keeping in that a homemaker must balance energy "income" from food against energy "expenditures" for activity. If income exceeds expenditures, the body gains weight and either more exercise is needed or eating must be controlled. The reverse is true for those who want to gain weight. They must eat more and rest more, says the New York state college of home economics. Quick results, either way, cannot be attained safely, warn foods and nutrition specialists. Do not attempt to change your weight unless you have consulted your physician.

Retrial of Parcel 49 Is Ordered in Special Term Here

The Supreme Court at special term has, in an opinion, decided that there shall be a retrial of Parcel 49, one of 14 parcels, the property of The New York Central Railroad Company, heretofore tried, and for which awards have been made.

The retrial of this one parcel is due to the application made by the railroad company to abandon the branch line from Phoenixia to Tannersville and Haines Falls, which involves a bridge at Phoenixia, known as Bridge 97. This was part of the property included in Parcel 49, and represented about 30 per cent of the claim covering this parcel; the award for the whole parcel was $36,417.

The railroad company is not required to turn back any sum as no part of the award on Parcel 49 has been paid, and no effort was made to collect it, pending the final determination of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the abandonment proceeding. This has not been had; the examiner has filed a report favorable to abandonment. This report is now before the commission.

On the application for retrial of Parcel 49 the railroad took the position that it was premature; that if the Interstate Commerce Commission finally consented to the abandonment of the branch line it would, in turn, consent to a retrial of Parcel 49.

Judge Schirick's Opinion

Judge Schirick's opinion follows: "This is an application by the petitioners, hereinafter referred to as the City, to vacate the award herein, upon the ground of fraud and newly discovered evidence.

"There can be no question as to the jurisdiction of the court to entertain this motion, even though the award has been affirmed on appeal. Keister vs. Rankin, 34 App. Div. 288; Corley v. N. Y. & Harlem Railroad Co., 12 App. Div. 409.

"The condemnation proceeding was a result of the release, by the City, into the Esopus Creek of additional waters impounded by the Gilboa Dam and carried into the Shandaken Tunnel. Owners of riparian rights along the Esopus Creek were thus afforded the opportunity of proving the damages sustained by them by reason of the increased flow of water.

"The New York Central Railroad, hereinafter referred to as the Railroad, is the owner of various parcels of land along the creek, and has presented claims for damages thereto. The particular parcel with which we are concerned in this application is known as parcel 49 on a map filed by the City in the Ulster County Clerk's office. On this parcel, located at the village of Phoenixia, there is a railroad bridge, known as bridge 97, across Esopus Creek. This bridge is part of a branch line leading from Phoenixia to Hunter.

"Upon the hearing before the commissioners of appraisal the railroad urged that the increased flow of water in the creek placed a great strain upon the abutments and foundations of the bridge. Witnesses for the railroad stated that these would have to be strengthened and that large amounts of money would have to be expended for the care and maintenance of the bridge in perpetuity against the ravages of the increased water flow of the creek. It was upon this theory that the issue of damage to parcel 49 was tried before the commissioners. Upon the motion to confirm the report of the commissioners of appraisal, the theory of perpetual maintenance was again urged, and was accepted by the special term. Upon appeal to the Appellate Division, Third Department, the order of the special term was affirmed.

"Within a few days after the decision of the Appellate Division, the railroad filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission an application for a certificate permitting the discontinuance of the branch line of which bridge 97 is a part. Hearings have been held before an examiner of the Interstate Commerce Commission. At these hearings witnesses for the railroad made it clear that it was the desire and the intention of the railroad, if permitted to do so by the Interstate Commerce Commission, to discontinue the operation of the bridge in question, to abandon the bridge in question. Upon cross examination by counsel for the city, the railroad witness Vorries admitted that such intention had been entertained for several years.

"It appears, therefore, that at the very moment when the railroad was arguing before the commissioners of appraisal, to the effect that it would be forced to expend large sums for rebuilding and perpetual maintenance of bridge 97, it had formed an intention of seeking permission to abandon it. A fortiori, this was true at the time when the theory of perpetual maintenance was argued with great force before the special term and the Appellate Division.

"The court does not imply, and it is not urged by counsel for the city, that the conduct of present counsel for the railroad was in any way subject to criticism. One who represents so huge an enterprise as the New York Central Railroad, in one of the phases of its activities, can hardly be expected to know the details of each other branch of the activities of the corporation. Nevertheless, it is the railroad which secured an award, based upon a promise which has since been proven false. Such award ought not to stand.

"It is urged by counsel for the railroad that its intention is immaterial, since it is without power to abandon any part of its lines without the permission of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Indeed, it is urged that this application is prematurely made, since such permission has not, and may never be, granted. The court is unable to concur in this view. The intention to abandon, even though not effective without the consent of the Interstate Commerce Commission, does not lack materiality. A request by the railroad must normally precede any action by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The initiative is the railroad's. It is perfectly obvious that the probabilities of eventual abandonment are much greater in the case of a line that has formed an intention to abandon than one which is content to maintain operations and does not seek to abandon. The railroad, in the present case, offered proof of material and expensive structural changes which it would have to make. The commissioners of appraisal, if evidence of intent to abandon were produced before them, would be justified in finding that no such alterations would, in fact, be made. Such evidence is not only competent, but is entitled to great weight.

"In the view which the court has taken, whether or not the present application to the Interstate Commerce Commission will be granted is not of determinative importance. Even if it should be presently denied, there is nothing to prevent a renewal of such application at a future time. Such repeated applications are probable, in view of the fact that the branch line is operating at loss, and that the desire to abandon exists. Parenthetically, it may be pointed out that the examiner for the Interstate Commerce Commission has already rendered his report, in which he recommends that permission to discontinue be granted.

The following cases support the conclusion here reached:

In re Hawkestone Street, 137 App. Div. 630, aff'd, 199 N. Y. 567.

McPhillips v. Fitzgerald, 76 App. Div. 15, aff'd 177 N. Y. 543.

In re Jamaica Bay, Bergan Beach, 247 App. Div. 449.

In re Simmons, 139 App. Div. 273.

"The motion is granted, vacating the award as to parcel 49, in so far as it relates to future damage."

"The City of New York was represented throughout the litigation by Henry R. Bright and John E. Egan, of the corporation counsel's office and the New York Central Railroad by Surrogate Henry H. Flemming.

pastures and his work of raising a herd has been quite a problem. Through careful selection of breeding and raising his calves Joe now has 15 animals—five milking herd, nine heifers and one yearling bull.

Joe's foundation cow is Saundersonsk Doll Best Artist and from this animal he has raised some fine show and high producing stock. From the Deyo herd he has one of Star's own daughters, Olive Star Mellissa, as well as Abberkirk Emperor Wimbledon, from the Wimbleton bull. From the Davis herd he has Roundout Gabelle, and just recently has bought a cow from the Winthorn breeding of the State of Delaware, Winthorn Bess Ormsby, who is a double granddaughter of Rexall Segis Matador.

Last Easter vacation Joe bought a bull calf from the Cornell University herd which was named Cornell Blend Repeater. This calf was sired by Cornell Royal Blend, and is a son of Catherine, and grandson of Cornell Pride, the cow who has made such a fine showing in the University herd.

A year ago last September, Joe entered Cornell University as a special student, that is a student that takes only two years' work. He became so interested in dairy work that he changed his registration to four years and will continue his studies for two more years. After that he plans to return home and work with his herd. Having six separate families, Joe should be able to raise as good a herd, not only for production but for show, as there is in the county.

There has never been a county fair or a county agricultural day but that Joe Brill has appeared with his whole string of animals and though the competition has been very close, he has always gone home with a handful of ribbons and a cash award that was very gratifying. This past year in the 4-H exhibits his awards were $28.50.

Mr. Bower adds that many of the 575 4-H boys and girls of Ulster county have done exceptionally fine work and received high honors, but that this is the highest recognition any of them ever have had for project work alone.

One Degree Warmer

Although it seemed colder this morning than Wednesday morning it was actually one degree warmer according to the recording of the official city thermometer at the city hall which recorded a low of five degrees above zero, as compared with a four degree recording yesterday. So far this winter the official city thermometer has dropped below the zero mark but twice, once on January 7 and again on the 10, when degrees of one below were recorded.

For Honeymooners Only: Isle to Be Blissful Retreat

Dunedin, Fla., Jan. 18 (AP)—Hog Island, a palm and pine studded key in the Gulf of Mexico, is to be turned over by its owner to the exclusive use of honeymooning couples.

Even the name will be changed to "Honeymoon Isle."

Clinton M. Washburn, 43-year-old business man, announced his plan in New York last night, explaining that "your honeymoon should be the happiest, most carefree time of your life."

He plans to build palm-thatched roofs for shelters, and from now until September, Washburn said, as many as 50 couples at a time can be two-week guests on the island.

They can bring clothes, portable cooking equipment and sleeping bags.

The island lies just across the bay from here and can be reached by boat in a few minutes. Highly-developed Clearwater Beach is just to the south, separated from the island by a pass.

But as far as the undeveloped island is concerned, it might be a thousand miles from civilization.

INCOME TAXES FOR ALL

With the single exception of the group of federal judges who were appointed prior to June 6, 1932, every person in the United States who had more than $1,000 or $2,500 net income, depending on whether he is single or married, will have to file a federal income tax return on his 1939 income. Returns are due March 15.

This year for the first time, state, county and municipal employees, which includes school employees, will file federal income tax returns. Heretofore these public servants were exempted. Just why they were excused from shouldering the burden of government the same as other citizens who are privately employed, has never been quite clear. Abolition of the privileged group should greatly increase the tax revenue.

The number of persons paying New York State income taxes which are due April 15 will also be increased this year as federal employees must now file state income tax returns.

In previous years federal employees filed federal income tax returns and were excused from the state income levy and state employees filed state income tax returns and were exempted from federal income taxes. Now there is no special privileged class.

Federal forms are now being mailed out and soon will be in the hands of taxpayers, who previously filed returns. However, failure to receive a form does not relieve a taxpayer of his obligation. Forms may be obtained upon request from the Albany offices of the Collector of Internal Revenue.

There are possibilities at present of increases both in the federal and state income taxes.

The President looks with favor on a ten per cent "super tax" on the federal income tax levy to pay emergency national defense costs. This "super tax," although still an informal idea, might be applied retroactively to 1939 income as well as to 1940 income. A taxpayer would compute his levy in the usual way and then add ten percent to the total.

New York state income taxpayers might also pay additional state income taxes. It is believed that the agreement on the budget between the Governor and the legislative leaders calls for a new tax involving changes in income tax exemption.

Have the lawmakers surrendered to the idea that neither new taxes nor new deficits are avoidable?

FREE GOLD

Winthrop W. Aldrich, chairman of the Chase National Bank in New York, urges a return to free gold circulation in this country.

Uncle Sam is said to hold about two-thirds of the world's monetary gold. We have become, and will continue to be, says Mr. Aldrich, the preservers and conservers of the world's monetary system. Our government has accumulated nearly $18,000,000,000 in yellow metal. But we can't go on indefinitely, he says, piling up gold in this manner. It shows our economic strength but threatens danger. It swells currency and credit and enlarges the deposits of our banks beyond their power to make use of it. The result might be a violent and perilous expansion of credit, with a runaway inflation and boom and then a destructive deflation.

So, he insists, "we should remove as promptly as possible the present prohibitions and restrictions on the private possession of gold. We should resume specie payments, coining gold again and putting it back into circulation."

It would be pleasant, wouldn't it, to have gold coins jingling in our pockets again? But some critics, while sympathizing with Mr. Aldrich's viewpoint, fear that if it were done, the gold would soon flow right back into the bank vaults and stay there. Can it be that gold has become an "old man of the sea" that we can't get rid of now even if we want to?

LOOK NEARER HOME

One reason for hope in this highly uncertain year of 1940 which has just dawned upon us, is the general realization that if Uncle Sam is to get out of the difficulties in which he has found himself during the past 10 years, he must rely on his own efforts and not count on the international troubles abroad creating prosperity in the United States.

For several months past, in fact ever since the war in Europe started, business men in America have warned us against expecting sound or lasting prosperity through war orders, or other unusual demands coming from abroad.

At the beginning of the year, labor leaders showed that they, too, realize that our most important problem is to solve our difficulties at home, and that these can not be liquidated by looking across the Atlantic. William Green, in a statement warned that the nation must not rely on war prosperity to solve its economic difficulties, the chief of which he described as unemployment. John L. Lewis, head of the C. I. O., who has been consistently close to the administration and opposed to the A. F. of L. during the past seven years, issued a similar warning. He said: "Labor believes that the American people will vigorously reiterate their conviction that America's problems must and will be solved in this country by American methods, that we must steadfastly turn aside from giddy dreams of foreign adventure."

There are two points to be kept in mind: First that America's danger comes from unemployment and economic maladjustment at home; second, that this can only be solved by remedying conditions in the United States, not by mixing in Europe's business or depending on it for a business revival.

In order to solve our problems at home we must have a return to sound economic conditions. We must make a reasonable and sincere effort to balance the national budget, to reduce unnecessary public expenditures, to stop socialistic experimentation and give business courage to go ahead and solve its own economic problems with what help the government may legally and logically give it.

Some evil-doers are "hoist with their own petard", and others, like a bank robber in Ohio, are blown up by their own nitroglycerine.

Blessed is the nation that minds its own business.

BLOOD TRANSFUSIONS

A recent movie illustrating the various emergencies confronting the young ambulance physician showed him giving a blood transfusion to a gangster. He obtained the blood direct from the gangster's sister and made the transfusion by means of some rubber tubing. It took place in a none too clean cellar or basement. It was a dramatic picture because the blood being transferred direct from one person to another to save life requires extreme care and cleanliness. Unfortunately, however, the blood of one willing to donate it may not be the right type and might cause death if used.

"Blood transfusion should no longer be regarded as a desperate emergency measure but as a safe routine procedure supplementing other forms of treatment for numerous diseases."

I am quoting Drs. Noah Fabricant and Leo M. Zimmerman, Chicago, in Hygiea.

"Modern knowledge of typing blood and new methods for preserving and transferring blood have greatly decreased the dangers that once attended blood transfusion. There are four group types known and it is possible to determine by simple and reliable tests into which classification a person's blood falls."

What is known as the Blood Transfusion Betterment Association was formed in 1923. Persons in every walk of life apply to the hospital or clinic to have their blood tested and then typed. They leave their address and telephone number and when their type of blood is needed, they report immediately. To qualify, a donor must be registered with the department of health, be of normal weight (at least 150 pounds), have a normal blood pressure and show a negative Wassermann (syphilis) test.

The latest development is blood "banks" by which blood is drawn from the donors and kept in a refrigerator until it is needed. By this means "precious hours are not lost while prospective donors journey over long city distances, and the willing donor is no longer rejected because his blood is not the right type."

These blood banks with their supply of "ready" blood of each type mean much to the peace of mind of the physician.

Tactics of New Dealers Will Be to Retain Control of Majority of Delegates
By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Jan. 18.—When Charles O. West, former under-secretary of the interior, emerges from the White House and says President Roosevelt was neither "disappointed" nor "disturbed" by the fact that the state chairman of Ohio had arranged to pledge Ohio's delegation to the national convention to support a third term, it could easily be assumed that Mr. Roosevelt's acquiescence has a bearing on his own renomination.

Actually, however, the plan of the New Dealers for several months has been to try to get as many state delegations instructed to follow the wishes of the administration, whatever they may prove to be. In other words, if the President wants to name his successor as the party standard bearer, he will want to be able to influence the convention to that end through delegations now being chosen which will be favorable to the New Deal cause.

Mr. West would not find any New Dealer here disappointed or disturbed if the Democrats of the state of Ohio are going to send a "third term" delegation to the national convention. The use of Senator Donahay's name as a means of camouflaging a real third term drive or the nomination of someone who would be desired by the administration is not by any means unorthodox in politics, but under the direct primary system it has been assumed that the people of a given party would express their preference by votes and not by the dictates of a few men in control of the party.

Political oligarchies originally brought the downfall of the state convention system making nominations of candidates, but gradually the swing has been back to the cliques once more. No longer are primaries regarded as binding, though in a few states where contests occur for prominent candidates instead of stalking horses there has been in recent years a tendency to stick to the primary choice for a number of ballots or as long as there seemed a reasonable chance of his winning the nomination.

Whether Mr. Roosevelt will be drafted after he publicly declines to seek renomination, or whether he wishes to name the candidate, the tactics of the New Dealers will be the same—to retain control of a majority of the delegates. There will be drives, for instance, for "third term" delegations in an impersonal as well as a personal sense. Attorney General Robert H. Jackson was among the first in public speeches to declare that 1940 should see a "third term" for the New Deal, the inference being that, irrespective of whether Mr. Roosevelt could be persuaded to run, the New Deal policies should be maintained.

This means that in the state of Ohio, the voters will have a clear-cut issue. The kind of delegation which is now promised under the Donahay label means that the party voters in the primary election this spring will be asked to approve the New Deal, whereas, the votes against the Donahay ticket will be recorded as against the New Deal. From the standpoint of the autumn elections, this means the opening of a division in the party from which the Republicans may hope to benefit. It is not unlikely that an opposition vote on the primary slate in Ohio will stress the importance of a revision, if not a vital change, in New Deal policies.

The fact that Ohio by its law prevents anybody's name from being used on the ballot without his consent has been troubling the New Dealers who knew Mr. Roosevelt would never sanction such a step. But by using a stalking horse, the same result can be achieved, for, at the proper moment in the convention, a delegation instructed for Senator Donahay for President can switch to any candidate desired by the administration. A more palpable and openly confessed system of governmental control of party elections could hardly be cited. In Europe, the government controls elections by various forms of physical coercion. In America, the charge can be made and now proved that the men in public office actually control the selection of delegates to a nominating convention. This was the issue on which the Republican party split in 1912 when the Bull Moose Progressive movement was born. The Taft-controlled convention was denounced as reactionary and boss-controlled. Yet today, 28 years later, a party which boasts of its progressivism and liberalism, brazenly adopts the tactics of the old reactionaries, and delegations are now selected with formal approval of the government officials themselves.

The Hatch Act was passed by Congress to prevent subordinates and government employees from influencing national elections by the use of governmental power and authority, but all higher officials were exempted, perhaps on the assumption they would not do what their subordinates were forbidden to do. Amendment of the Hatch law to include all government officials would seem to be the logical consequence of what has just been announced by Democratic leaders from Ohio.

Corn Borer Control To Be Discussed At Meeting Here

There will be a meeting of especial interest to vegetable growers on Friday, January 19, in the lecture room of local Farm Bureau office. The Farm Bureau vegetable committee has arranged to have three specialists from the New York State College of Agriculture and Geneva Experiment Station come here to discuss problems of disease and insect control on vegetable crops. Dr. R. W. Leiby of Cornell will discuss the control of insects affecting market garden crops, Prof. Charles Chapp of Cornell will talk on the control of vegetable diseases, and Dr. L. A. Carruth of Geneva will discuss latest developments in the control of European corn borer and corn ear worm.

The morning session, beginning at 9:30, will be devoted to insects and diseases of market garden vegetables, except tomatoes and sweet corn. Both Dr. Leiby and Prof. Chapp will be on the program.

The afternoon session will be devoted to a discussion of the problems facing the sweet corn grower. Dr. Carruth, who is in charge of corn borer work on the control of corn borer and corn ear worm, will lead a discussion on the control of corn borer, ear worm and other corn insects. The disease affecting sweet corn will be discussed by Dr. Chapp.

The vegetable committee is especially anxious to get the latest information on corn borer control, since this insect is a serious threat to the sweet corn industry of Ulster county. They hope, with the aid of the specialists, to work out some practical approach to the problem of controlling this insect. The committee will be present to discuss this problem and lay plans for future work.

This meeting is arranged especially for the market gardener and will cover all vegetables except tomatoes. A special tomato meeting will be held early in February. The committee invites all those interested in vegetable growing to be present at this meeting.

The next three months will be the most dangerous for the wildlife of northern climes. During the storms and low temperatures of late winter wildlife of all species needs more heat and energy producing foods than at any other time of the year. At this season natural cover is at its poorest. Feeding so far through the winter has diminished all the most accessible supplies. Heavy storms and inclement weather make the reserve supplies all the more difficult to get at. Watch your local covers and the wildlife therein. When necessary help out by placing emergency rations at strategic points where they can be helpful.

Veterans' Service Bureau Statement

The American Legion Department of New York Ulster County Organization Commander H. L. Kirchner, Adjutant E. P. MacConnell, P. O. Box 271, Kingston, N. Y.

The American Legion, Ulster County Organization, has requested The Freeman to publish the following statement:

Veterans Service Bureau Explained by Legion

There seems to be a misunderstanding among the general public, members of the Board of Supervisors and various town boards in regard to the functions of the Ulster County Veterans Service Bureau. In order to clarify this apparent misunderstanding, the Ulster County Organization of the American Legion presents the following facts:

The purpose of the Service Bureau is to transfer the burden of hospitalization and support of the veteran and his dependents from the city and town of the county and place it on the federal government which has already made provisions to take care of such cases. The grants available to veterans from the federal government in many instances relieve the city and towns of welfare expense. Such cases, therefore, save the city and various towns in the county an amount considerably in excess of the cost of maintaining the Service Bureau. Furthermore, the bureau is a means of acquainting the veteran and his dependents with the benefits they may be entitled to from the U. S. government, and to assist them in securing these just claims.

In the past, each of the 13 veteran organizations in the county had its own Service Officer who served without remuneration whatever. However, the demands increased to such an extent that it was difficult to secure men to devote the time and effort that was necessary for the work.

The Ulster County American Legion, acting upon a law passed by the legislature and signed by the governor in 1938, voted to establish this office. This law made it possible for every county in New York state to establish a Veterans' Service Bureau to be financed by appropriations made by the Board of Supervisors. The same year (1938), a committee representing each American Legion Post in the county, requested the Board of Supervisors to establish the office and appropriate $2,500 to defray expenses for the year 1939.

It is a matter of record that the Service Bureau was established by only $1,000 appropriated.

In view of the small appropriation made and knowing the approximate amount of work and expense involved, the committee delayed action until May 1st, at which time it was decided that in order to secure actual costs the Service Bureau be operated until the end of the year.

In order to give the maximum amount of service to the veterans and his dependents and to save the various towns as much expense as possible, the committee set the bureau up as a full time job. The Service Officer's duty was to contact the veteran's representative in each locality and work cases that were brought to his attention. In many instances, this necessitated his going to the veteran's home due to the veteran's disability or lack of means of transportation.

The Service Officer finds that contrary to the general belief, many veterans are reluctant to ask for federal aid, even though they are entitled to it, and it is only after questioning him that the full benefits to which he is entitled can be brought out. In this way, he also finds many cases that are normally a charge on the town which can be transferred to federal government, thus saving the town welfare expense.

The Service Officer's report for the six-month period May 1 to November 1, 1939, indicated an actual saving in hospitalization alone of $2,592. The total expense of operating the bureau for the same period was $300, leaving a net saving to the city and various towns of $2,092.

In addition to the above facts, he reports that through his efforts, veterans secured monetary benefits of approximately $4,000 during the same period, which amount does not include adjusted compensation.

To carry on this work through the year 1940, the Board of Supervisors appropriated $1,200.

In view of the foregoing facts, the veterans' organizations cannot understand the attitude of the Board of Supervisors in not appropriating a sufficient amount for the year 1940 which would permit the bureau to carry on the work in a manner efficient for the veteran and at a saving to the taxpayer. It is obvious that if an additional sum is not appropriated, the activities of the Service Bureau will necessarily have to be curtailed, which, judging by the facts related, would be detrimental to the interests of both the veterans and the taxpayers of Ulster county.

Kingston Trust Company Officers

At the annual meeting of the Kingston Trust Company held Wednesday afternoon all officers were re-elected. Senator Charles W. Walton was elected to the board of directors and retains his position as counsel for the bank.

The officers are: Philip Elting, president; William H. Van Etten, vice president; Arthur A. Davis, secretary and treasurer; Gordon A. Craig, assistant treasurer; Ernest LeFevre, assistant treasurer; Munroe Burger, assistant treasurer; Victor H. Roth, trust officer. Directors are: Holley R. Cantine, A. H. Chambers, Philip Elting, Arthur V. Hoornbeek, Wilson Ingalls, George F. Kaufman, E. T. McGill, John R. Millard, George W. Ross, Alvah S. Staples, David Terry, C. S. Treadwell, William H. Van Etten and Senator Charles W. Walton.

Ohio Plans Check With White House

tial preference primaries where consent of the candidate was required, as in Ohio.

Some third term boosters placed the President's potential convention strength at more than 250 already, with 551 needed for a majority, but placed a big "if" around the claim. They qualified the figure because it was based on public statements of pro-Roosevelt state leaders who may or may not be in control of their respective delegations to the convention.

To Ohio's 52, these third term advocates added Pennsylvania's 72, to be selected April 23; New Jersey's 32, May 21; Florida's 14, May 7; Illinois' 58, April 9 and 26; Missouri's 30, date not set, and New Mexico's 6, date yet to be fixed.

Some Ohio Democrats in the house expressed surprise at the announcement by Arthur L. Limbach, Ohio state Democratic chairman, that the Buckeye delegation, while pledged to Donahay, would vote as a unit for Roosevelt if their was a strong first ballot swing to him.

Rep. Harter of Akron said he could not understand how convention delegates could be pledged "before they were chosen."

"The announcement is a surprise to me," he added. "How a state chairman can assume to speak for the delegates before they are chosen, I can't understand."

Fire Destroys Napanoch House

Napanoch, Jan. 18.—Fire believed to have started from an over-heated chimney destroyed the two-story wooden house of Mrs. Sarah Weinig Wednesday afternoon.

The fire started at 2 p. m. and was under control an hour later. Members of the Ellenville fire department fought the blaze under command of Chief Edsell Van Leuvan.

Furnishings in the home were removed by the firemen. There were no injuries.

Associated With Doyle

William V. Zang, formerly manager of the Fair Deal Auto Exchange on Broadway, is now associated with A. F. Doyle of Washington avenue, local distributor of Packard and Studebaker automobiles. Mr. Zang will be pleased to serve his customers at his new business address.

No Instructed Delegates

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 18 (P)—A temporary campaign committee said today Publisher Frank Gannett, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, would not seek instructed delegates in New York state. The organization said, however, Gannett "will consider many requests that he enter the primaries in certain central, eastern and southern states, although not in those states that have favorite son candidates." "There are some indications in New York county," the group added, "of a movement . . . to send uninstructed delegates to the national convention, indicating that the rank and file Republicans are looking for a candidate, who can carry New York state."

Moved From Newburgh

The first relief family to be removed forcibly to another state from the Newburgh city and town welfare district, Mrs. Ada Westley of Newburgh and her family of five children, were sent back to her former home in Halifax, Va., on Tuesday. She was placed aboard a train with her family by the sheriff's office acting under a court order signed by County Judge J. D. Wilson following a series of three hearings in the case after application for the order had been made by the welfare department.

Tickets for Banquet

Tickets for the Ulster County Restaurant and Liquor Dealers' Association banquet, which will be held Tuesday, January 23, at the Governor Clinton Hotel, may be purchased at Foye's Bar and Grill on Wall street, or at Huling's Barn. The principal speaker for the occasion will be John Daley, president of the state association. Other talks will be given by city and county officials. Dinner music will be furnished by Phil Toffel and his orchestra.

No Cause for Alarm

Brussels, Jan. 18 (P)—Belgium has "no cause for any immediate alarm," in the opinion of John Cudahy, newly-installed ambassador from the United States. Cudahy said he had talked to a number of persons before arriving at this view. He had an hour's audience yesterday with King Leopold and delivered a message from President Roosevelt, the nature of which he declined to disclose.

Prayer Meeting

There will be a prayer meeting in the Bloomingtown Reformed Church tonight at 8 o'clock. Sunday services: 9:45 a. m., prayer and sermon; 11 a. m., Sunday School; 7 p. m., Christian Endeavor; 8 p. m., sermon.

Public Card Party

The Catholic Daughters of America will hold a public card party at the Knights of Columbus rooms on Broadway on Thursday evening, January 25.

Will Play Davids

River Ice Here Is 18 Inches Thick

Ice in the Hudson river off Kingston Point is reported to be about 18 inches thick, while in the Rondout creek it averages from 8 to 10 inches in thickness.

Owing to the heavy ice there is no ferry service between Kingston and Rhinecliff, and no boats are operating in the Rondout creek.

The heavy ice in the river recalls the days of 20 years ago when ice was being harvested on the river and creek but as the years advanced natural ice was supplanted by artificial ice, until today but little natural ice is harvested.

The huge ice houses along the banks of the Hudson river have either been destroyed by fire, torn down, or are now being used for other purposes. The icehouses along the Rondout creek have also long since disappeared.

Rabies in Middletown

Dr. H. J. Shelley, Middletown health officer, on Wednesday laid aside a report on a fifth rabid dog discovered in that city since it has been under quarantine for rabies, to seek a sixth infected animal in the Fulton street area.

Nazi Sailors Stay In Port; Warships Near Golden Gate

San Francisco, Jan. 18 (AP)—Reports that three British warships were lurking outside the Golden Gate apparently caused cancellation of plans for 512 Nazi sailors to sail from San Francisco today for Germany via the Orient.

The Germans, greater portion of the crew of the Nazi liner Columbus, scuttled in the Atlantic last month to avoid capture by the British, seemingly were headed for government detention quarters on Angel Island in San Francisco Bay.

Traveling on two special trains, the Germans left New York last Sunday night, police and federal officers were ordered out in numbers to meet them early today at the Oakland waterfront railroad terminal.

It was arranged originally that the Nazis should leave at noon today on the N. Y. K. liner Tatuta Maru for Japan, from where they would go to Siberia and eventually to Germany. N. Y. K. officials, however, said the ship would sail without the Germans.

Immigration Commissioner J. J. McGrath, meantime, disclosed that Angel Island quarters have been prepared for the men.

The change in plan was attributed to waterfront reports that two Australian cruisers and a Canadian gunboat were cruising 100 miles outside San Francisco, ready to remove the Nazis from any ship on which they might sail.

Captain Fritz Wiedemann, Nazi consul general here and commander of the company in which Adolf Hitler fought in the World War, joined his countrymen yesterday at Sparks, Nev., a railroad center adjacent to Reno.

Expert to Talk On Pension Plan

At the last meeting of the common council earlier in the month a resolution was adopted permitting all city employees to join the New York state retirement system. As a result of the many questions that have arisen in regard to the state pension plan a representative of the state pension bureau will be in Kingston on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to address a meeting of all interested city employees.

Says Jealousy Reason
Lansdale, Pa., Jan. 18 (AP)—Police Chief Samuel Woffindin said today that jealousy over his wife's devotion to their infant son apparently was responsible for Benjamin McCabe's slaying of the child on New Year's Day. McCabe, lodged in jail after pleading guilty to murder, retained the composure he displayed as he told police he smothered the 51-day-old boy. "I was jealous of my wife and the affection she showed the baby," he was quoted. The baldish young WPA worker told guards at the Norristown county prison he was "glad that's off my mind." "I murdered the baby by putting a pillow over his mouth," Woffindin quoted McCabe when he related yesterday the tragic sequel to a quarrel with his pretty brunette wife, Mildred, 19.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)
Mere Shadow of Self
Pittsburgh—Two months ago, 42-year-old Thomas Zikis weighed 385 pounds. "It took two men to help me on my feet." Convinced "there was only one thing to do," he decided to abstain from candy and other fattening foods. Now he weighs 285 and is working toward an even 200. "I'm never hungry anymore."

Alibi Also Slick
Taunton, Mass.—Ralph Povar, 27, of East Providence, R. I., charged with speeding, told Judge William J. Davidson he was rushing aid to a sick cow. He was fined $5.

Out of Order
La Plata, Mo.—The family auto didn't sound quite right to Mrs. Fred L. Hudson. Suddenly the flywheel flew apart and pieces tore through the floor. Mrs. Hudson suffered a broken heel and cuts and torn ligaments in her foot.

Narrow Escape
Salina, Kas.—J. W. Blevins felt faint as he drove home. He pulled over to the curb and turned off the ignition. Paralyzed by carbon monoxide gas, he sat for three hours unable to signal passing motorists or to open the window. Finally his son, alarmed when he did not come home, searched the streets and found him.

Object Lesson
Omaha, Neb.—Municipal Judge John Gutknecht of Chicago came to Omaha to speak at a safety council meeting, and almost immediately was involved in a traffic accident. The taxicab taking him to a hotel collided with another car two blocks from his destination. The judge walked the rest of the way.

On Second Thought—
Ames, Ia.—The Iowa State College athletic department has just received 17 towels, laundered and in good shape, that belonged to the school three years ago. The package of towels was postmarked Chicago and contained a $1 bill.

Christmas Seal Returns Needed

"Returns from the sale of Christmas Seals received so far fall short of the amount needed to carry out necessary work next year," H. Van Wyck Darrow, treasurer of the Ulster County Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health, said today. Tuberculosis is still a serious community problem and unless a sufficient amount to meet current needs is realized the program for 1940 must be curtailed. "It is a source of satisfaction to the committee in charge to announce that the response has evidenced whole-hearted co-operation in this enterprise, which is part and parcel of our community life. In many instances, however, no word has been heard from approximately 1,500 persons. Many, who have been unable to buy Christmas seals this year have returned them with notes of explanation in which they promised to help as soon as financial conditions are better. Those, who have not sent in money for Christmas seals are urged to do so at once; those who cannot be asked to help the committee to complete its work by returning their seals."

Temple Emanuel Services Listed

Services will be held at Temple Emanuel on Friday evening, January 19, at 7:45 o'clock. Rabbi Bloom will preach on the theme "Chaim Weizman Comes to America." Youth services will take place from 10 to 11 o'clock on Saturday morning. The adult class on contemporary Jewish problems will meet on Wednesday evening at the rabbi's home. On Monday evening, January 22, at 8:15 o'clock, the Forum sponsored by Temple Emanuel and the Jewish Youth Alliance will present Frederick Snyder, who will speak on the subject "Keeping Ahead of the Headlines." Mr. Snyder is well known to a Kingston audience and his brilliant analyses and vital presentation should invite everyone interested in the contemporary scene to be present.

TILLSON

Tillson, Jan. 18 — Reformed Church: Worship service with sermon 9:30 a. m. Sunday School 10:30 o'clock. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated Sunday morning, January 28, at the 9:30 o'clock service. The Rev. Benjamin Thaden will be in charge.

Friends Church, the Rev. Anson Coutant, pastor. Sunday School at 10 a. m. Worship service with sermon 11 o'clock. Isaac Merrihew, who met with an accident last week, is doing nicely and able to be up and around but weak from the loss of blood. A chair upset and went through the window and Mr. Merrihew was thrown against the glass and received a bad gash in the side of the neck. The doctor was obliged to take several stitches. Not realizing it was so bad he told no one and slept two hours. On awaking he was two weeks to stand and called for help. Miss Beulah Keator had an accident recently when her car skidded on the ice. The car was badly damaged but she escaped injury. While the car is being repaired she is boarding in the vicinity of her school.

Murphy Says He Never Suppressed Any Court Actions

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—In the presence of President Roosevelt, officials high in the government, Mr. Murphy, new associate justice of the Supreme Court, took the oath of office today. At the same time Robert H. Jackson was sworn in as attorney general.

The ceremony took place in the oval room where the President has his study on the second floor of the White House. Mr. Roosevelt told each of them of the satisfaction it gave him to have two very old friends move into higher offices in the government services. He congratulated each on services already performed for the government and country.

Denies Suppression

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—Frank Murphy, leaving the attorney generalship to take a place on the Supreme Court, today denied "insinuation" that he had "suppressed possible proceedings against Mayor Kelly of Chicago, Mayor Hague of Jersey City and other political leaders."

Murphy's statement was given out by a justice department aide from his hotel apartment less than a dozen hours before he was expected to be sworn in as a justice of the high court at a White House ceremony.

"Proceedings, by grand jury or otherwise," he said, "have been pressed against political leaders, without regard to their party, their power or their influence, for the violation of federal laws whenever the department has been able to obtain evidence to justify prosecution. There has been no criminal prosecution of the persons above referred to because there is no evidence in the department to warrant such prosecution."

"The department has no authority to investigate or prosecute the investigation of any laws other than federal laws."

Recalls Statement

His reference to Mayor Frank Hague recalled a statement by Homer Cummings, Murphy's predecessor as attorney general, in September, 1938, that an investigation was "still in progress" to determine whether civil liberties had been suppressed in Jersey City.

The investigation had been announced by Cummings four months earlier in response to complaints which he said had been received from many persons. Demands for a federal inquiry had been voiced by a number of organizations after Norman Thomas, Socialist leader, had been taken from a public square and put on a Manhattan-bound ferry when he attempted to address a Jersey City crowd.

Murphy said at the outset of his statement that he felt it his duty "to clear up certain misstatements of fact, and insinuations and implications based upon such misstatements which have today and lately been circulated in a portion of the press."

"Such misstatements are to the effect, or insinuate, that as attorney general I have, for political purposes, suppressed possible proceedings against Mayor Kelly of Chicago, Mayor Hague of Jersey City, and other political leaders, and that my successor in office, Mr. Robert H. Jackson, is expected to continue the same policy of suppression and inaction, to serve alleged political purposes of the administration."

"Such stories and such statements are not true. I resent them and the implications arising from them."

Murphy said that "the department has been vigorous in ferreting out violations of federal law without regard to political implications. There is not the slightest basis to suspect any change in the department's policy of firm and equal enforcement of the laws."

A better demand for fruits will come in 1940 if industrial activity continues to improve, farm economists say.

Important Tourist Tip
Wildlife technicians of the national park service, consulted as to what should be done with regard to the problem of skunks in the vicinity of hotels in Glacier National park, Montana, or other national park areas, contend that it is not the skunks that constitute the problem, if any, but the attitude of the public. "Allay the fears of the visitors regarding these harmless and interesting mammals, advise the wildlife experts. 'Educate the people to become better acquainted with skunks—at least on paper—and in time the prejudice that has so long prevented the skunk from enjoying friendly relations with visitors to the country will be overcome.'"

Eating the right foods for health is not so much a matter of income as a matter of knowledge; and the rich foods of the well-to-do may have no higher nutritional value, because of the lack of proper balances, than the simple foods of the poor.

HARDSHIPS STUN QUAKE VICTIMS

These two pictures, just received in America by clipper, suggest the grief and suffering spread by the disastrous Turkish earthquake. Top, a peasant mother, who lost six children in the quake, clings weeping to Turkey's president, Ismet Inonu. At his right in Gen. Kiazim Orbay, relief director. Below, a mother and child huddle in a crude shelter after seeing their home crumble.

Ulster Co. Men on Program of Fruit Growers' Meeting

Two Ulster county fruit growers, both of them from Milton as it happens, are to appear on the program of the eastern meeting of the New York State Horticultural Society, to be held in the State Armory at Kingston, Wednesday to Friday, January 24-26.

James Clarke will act as chairman of the session on small fruits, which opens Thursday at 2 p. m. and which will include talks on "Modern Concepts of Small Fruit Culture," "Taking Advantage of Opportunities," and "New Developments in the Control of Diseases of Small Fruits."

At the Friday morning session, opening at 10 o'clock, Walter Clarke will preside. The session will be devoted to a discussion of market outlets and utilization. Talks listed are "International Aspects of the Fruit Business," "A Survey of the Apple Industry From the National Point of View," and "The Utilization of Fruit." The meeting opens on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Wednesday night there will be a round table discussion at the Governor Clinton Hotel, an address by Professor Tawse of Montreal, and moving pictures. Thursday night at the Governor Clinton there will be the annual banquet and social evening, speaking contest and awarding of prizes and an address by some well known speaker. Thursday and Friday mornings at 9:30 and Wednesday and Thursday afternoons at 1:30 half hour sessions are allowed for the "Question Box." These are among the most informative sessions of the meeting and the program gives a list of 137 pertinent questions, which will be brought up, so far as time allows and answered by experts and fruit growers.

BLOOD RUNS COLD

By Ann Demarest

YESTERDAY, Christine Howarth feels there is something definitely wrong with the house. She sees a hand on her window-pane, overhears Mr. Kimball's niece in a restaurant saying, "I'm afraid," and when she knocks on the girl's door later, there is no answer.

Chapter Three Murder

THERE was nothing I could do but go back to my own room, without an electric light bulb. As I turned back I had the uncomfortable feeling that someone was watching me from the stairway leading to the third floor. I made myself look up. "After all," I thought, "this is a New York apartment, not a haunted house."

The light was so dim I couldn't make out whether it was a man or a woman crouched near the top of the stairs. But there was someone there. As I leaned forward to see better the person moved quickly up to the third floor hall. And somewhere upstairs a dog barked shrilly. I knew one thing. It wasn't a dog I'd seen.

Feeling more bewildered than frightened, I stumbled back to my cold, dark apartment. After a few minutes distracted search, I found my cigarette lighter and, holding it in one hand, I tried to lock the door with the other, but whether it was nervousness or in the ex-quarrel, I didn't move. I just huddled under the bedclothes afraid even to see if the lights were on; and never taking my eyes from the door, I waited for morning.

All night long it seemed to me that people were going up and down the stairs, passing the door. Finally I must have dozed, because it was broad daylight when I awakened, still feeling cold, and conscious of someone screaming outside my door.

I jumped out of bed and ran to the dresser for my watch. It was half-past eight. I could hear someone in the hall now, so I slipped into my mules, pulled my robe over me and went to the door, opening it cautiously. A girl in a dark dress and blue gingham apron, apparently the maid, was lying in the hall flat on her back. A woman was bending over her. A short, stout woman in a green and yellow bathrobe, with her hair down her back in a gray wispy braid. As I came into the hall the woman jerked upright, her eyes bulging.

Scared To Death

"WHO are you?" she shrieked. Hastily I tried to explain and the woman, though seemingly slightly mollified, still regarded me with a dubious eye. "Bring water," she said. "There's been murder."

"Murder," I echoed, looking

I had the uncomfortable feeling that someone was watching me.

clamation I chose the wrong key. I don't know. Anyway the door wouldn't lock. Then I was scared. I could hear footsteps on the stairway and finally Mr. Kimball calling to me from the hall. I jerked open the door so quickly that Mr. Kimball, with a lighted candle in his hand, nearly fell over.

"I seem to be giving you a lot of trouble this evening," he said apologetically. "The fuse burned out and it wasn't until a moment ago that I remembered your apartment was on the same circuit as the hall. I've been in the cellar trying to fix it, but I'm about as handy at that as at the furnace."

"I was frightened out of my wits," I admitted.

"I've called the company," he said. "They'll send a man around right away."

I took the candle, forgetting to mention that the door wouldn't lock. Mr. Kimball said good night and went downstairs.

The room was so drafty that the flame flickered and before I got into my pajamas it blew out.

Intruder

AFTER I crawled into bed I lay there with my eyes wide open, too tired to sleep. The studio windows loomed large and bare without curtains and beyond the window at the head of my couch I could see the shadowy outline of the fire escape. That fire escape! My eyes were glued to it. I expected at any moment to see someone or something climb in, and I was afraid to get up and lock the window.

But my fears about someone entering by way of the fire escape were unfounded; the person who burst into the room came from the hall.

It wasn't the sound of the opening door that caught my attention. It was the faint streak of light across the room that made me sit bolt upright, my scalp tingling and a good old-fashioned chill running up and down my spine.

"Who's there?" I managed to gasp.

"Oh, my God!" came a man's startled exclamation.

The door slammed shut and I heard heavy steps down the hall and then the sound of knocking. Well, I lay there frozen to the bed. To save my life I couldn't have moved a muscle. After a minute or two of silence loud voices came from the hall, a man's and a woman's, and they seemed to be down at the white face with a shiver.

"What was that?" she cupped her hand to her ear.

I stared at her. "Is she dead?" I asked, and motioned towards the girl.

"Not her," she said in a matter-of-fact voice. "The other one, in there."

She pointed towards the open doorway of the apartment next to mine.

I clung to the banister and my bones turned to water.

Last night I'd knocked at the door of that apartment. I'd tried to get into a room where someone had been murdered.

Then I thought of the man who had rushed into my room and I got cold all over.

The woman, still kneeling on the floor beside the girl, looked up at me. "Bring water," she said. "She's fainting."

Stumbling back to the apartment, I filled a glass with water, but my hands were shaking so badly that by the time I got back to the hall the glass was almost empty. I just stood there, staring, as the woman moistened a handkerchief and put it on the girl's forehead. My mind was in such a turmoil I couldn't speak.

"Pull yourself together," the woman said heavily without looking up. "We can't have everyone fainting."

With tremendous effort I straightened, but when I tried to tell her I was all right the words were lost in my throat. Perhaps this woman had exaggerated. I thought wildly. Anyway, how did she know it was murder? There must be something I could do.

I was scared to death, but I walked over to the open door of the apartment. When I first glanced around there was nothing out of the ordinary. The room was terribly cold—one of the windows was open—and the curtain was blowing about, wet and bedraggled. A little drift of snow lay on the rug under the window and I realized vaguely that the blizzard must have kept up all night.

Holding my breath, I walked in a few steps and forced myself to turn to the far end of the room. There in a mirror was a reflection, a ghastly reflection of a girl in a coral dressing gown. It was Mr. Kimball's niece, sitting rigidly in a small chair in front of the dressing table.

Social Hygiene Day Meeting

Dr. Elizabeth Gardiner, director of maternity, infancy and child hygiene of the New York State Department of Health, will be the principal speaker on the Social Hygiene Day meeting on February 1st at the Y. M. C. A. Community progress in social hygiene and control of syphilis will be reviewed. It was announced today by Robert L. Sisson, chairman of the Social Hygiene Committee.

With emphasis on a "Guard Against Syphilis" theme, the meeting will consider the problems of medical quackery and the sale of worthless nostrums and other illegal and wasteful practices as they relate to venereal disease control. It will also evaluate existing case findings and treatment facilities in this city and state the announcement added.

The chairman of the meeting will be Dr. Hollis Ingraham, district state health officer, there will also be a showing of the new syphilis moving picture "With These Weapons". Open to the public the dinner meeting is scheduled to begin at 7 p. m.

All civic organizations in the country and city are invited to participate and send representatives to the meeting. Reservations may be made at the office of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Association, 74 John street.

National Social Hygiene Day is observed each year in every state and in more than 5,000 communities and is sponsored by the American Social Hygiene Association in cooperation with health, welfare, civic and medical organizations and its state and local anti-syphilis committees.

Forestry Talk at Rotary Luncheon

A plea for preservation of our community forests through proper conservation practices and the generous support of those in charge of the community forest projects was voiced by Professor Ralph M. Hutchinson, of the New York State College of Forestry, Syracuse University, at the weekly luncheon meeting on Wednesday at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Professor Hutchinson also described bird, animal and plant life in the forests and the important and indispensable part they play in forest conservation. Approximately three million jobs are the direct result of our forests, including the lumber industry, which provides a million and a half men, and the pulp and paper industries employing an equal number. In many communities having forests, fuel is furnished to needy residents, besides giving employment to many men. Healthful recreation is also offered the public in the larger preserves.

Fires are the most severe setbacks to forests, undoing the work of a century. The wanton destruction of small plants in the forests was also deplored by the speaker. These wild flowers and plants are necessary for the maintenance of the birds and animals and are a balance provided by nature.

There are approximately 2,500 community forests in the United States. In New York state there are about 600. The professor complimented Kingston on the progress it has made since establishing a community forest and exhorted the Rotarians to give their wholehearted support to those in charge of the local community forest.

Guests at the luncheon included Rotarian Frank Freeman of Albany and Robert Celestence and John Snyder of this city.

Blaze Damages Uptown Residence

Fire that started in the bed-clothing on a bed in a bedroom on the second floor of the house of Albert M. Cook at 24 John street, did considerable damage to the furnishings in the room, and smoke damage to the second floor.

The fire broke out at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and was discovered by the young daughter of Mr. Cook, who called to her mother, Mrs. Cook, who stripped the bed and threw the burning clothing out of the window.

Sparks from the burning bedding set fire to some of the room furnishings, and filled the second floor of the house with smoke.

The fire department was called by telephone and Wiltwyck and Central Fire Station responded.

The bundle of burning bedding also set fire to the siding of the house, but was quickly extinguished.

According to the fire department it is assumed that the child might have been playing with matches.

Ulster Park 4-H Club

The Ulster Park 4-H Club had a regular meeting at the Ulster Park school January 11. The club has been learning how to demonstrate the making of fudge, apple sauce cake and pop corn balls, and also to judge them. The club has decided to donate $2 from its funds to the Esopus Township Nursing Association to buy receiving blankets. The members of the club are looking forward to the skating or sleigh riding party which is scheduled for January 25.

Course Is Finished

R. J. Milholland, of the Sunbeam Furnace Division of the American Radiator Company, assisted by William Welling and Vaughn Gooding, who have been conducting a successful school in air conditioning with the 46 employees of the Canfield Supply Co., have completed the course and returned to the factory. Mr. Milholland reports a substantial growth in air conditioning in 1939, and states the outlook for 1940 is most promising.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Senator Borah Suffers Stroke At Capital; Condition Critical

casualties regains consciousness and calls for "Mary," his wife. Mrs. Borah is constantly in attendance.

Miss Rubin said the senator suffers no pain and is breathing regularly. She said his physician expected no immediate crisis, explaining that "by that I mean within the next two or three hours."

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—Senator Borah (R., Idaho) was reported today to have suffered a cerebral hemorrhage as the result of a fall when he slipped on a rug at his apartment Tuesday morning. His condition was said to be critical.

Miss Cora Rubin, Borah's secretary for 30 years, said she had been authorized by Mrs. Borah to announce that the 74-year-old senator was in critical condition.

Borah had been confined to his bed since the fall. He is under the care of Dr. Worth Daniels, his physician, and his injuries at first were not believed to be extremely serious.

Miss Rubin said this morning that there apparently had been a change for the worse in Borah's condition during the night.

Half an hour later, Miss Rubin reported the senator was sleeping and breathing normally.

"We don't expect any change in his condition today," he said. "His condition is critical and we just don't know when there will be a change."

The veteran senator had suffered a collapse brought on by heat and overwork in the summer of 1938 but apparently had regained his health. He was active throughout the special session of Congress last fall when he joined in leading an unsuccessful fight against revision of the neutrality law.

'Feels Fine'

He told reporters last week that he felt fine and expected to participate actively this session. He also had made plans to attend the Republican national convention this year with the avowed objective of doing everything possible to see that his party nominated a progressive candidate and adopted a liberal platform.

Friends said that Borah, who would complete 33 years of service in the Senate on March 4, had been taking special precautions to guard his health since his illness in 1938.

He rested daily in his office, often chatting with reporters while lying on a divan covered with an army blanket. When the weather permitted, he also went for a daily sunning in the park across the street from the Senate office building. Sometimes when the weather was clear and cold he wrapped a blanket about him.

Borah has been expected to take a leading part this session in discussion of most of the major issues facing Congress. He announced recently that he would oppose any "excessive" defense appropriations. He expressed a preference that money be spent instead for relief and farm benefits.

Opponents of the anti-lynching bill, to be brought up for consideration before the Senate judiciary committee tomorrow, have counted on him to aid them in their fight against the measure. Borah, a member of the judiciary committee, previously had opposed similar legislation on the ground that it constituted a violation of states' rights.

Soya Beans, Not Mine Are Reason Ship Sunk

San Francisco, Jan. 18 (AP)—A cargo of soya beans and not a mine which badly damaged it was the reason the 11,000-ton Danish liner Canada sank off the coast of England.

Captain Carl Knudsen, who was in command of the Canada when it struck a mine near Hull, England, last November, revealed today that chances of taking the Canada into port for repairs were good until 8,000 tons of soya beans were swelled three times their size by sea water.

Even the steel sides of the vessel couldn't stop the swelling. The plates burst and the Canada sank in shallow water where later it was cut in two when another ship rammed it. Captain Knudsen came to San Francisco in command of the liner Amerika. Many of his crew from the Canada were with him.

Drive Begins Friday

Ellenville, Jan. 18—Chairman R. A. Benson today announced that the drive for funds for Veterans Memorial Hospital would begin Friday, January 26. A day at 8 p. m.

AM I GOOD OR AM I GOOD?

To make good with the nation's sausage lovers, Forst uses only prime young piglets in Catskill Mountain Sausage; delicately blended with rare spices and packed with savory flavor, they're just grand! The extra zippy, zesty flavor is the secret of the Forst family, who have for almost seventy years prepared meat delicacies in the Good Old American Way. Take home a pound box of Dainty Links for supper tonight or breakfast tomorrow.

Turkey's Price Is 340 Millions

started production, including the manufacture of armaments. A $10,000,000 loan for release of blocked exchange.

Commitments to use principal and interest payments made on the loans by Turkey to purchase large quantities of Turkish tobacco, fruit, nuts and minerals, comprising Turkey's major exports which previously went to Germany.

(The arms, mineral resources, steel mill and exchange loans are based in American dollars on the basis of the exchange rates prevailing at the time they were granted.)

Turkey, because of her guardianship of the Dardanelles gateway to the Russian-controlled Black Sea and her keystone position in the Moslem Near East, was wooed by both Germany and the Allies at the outbreak of the European War.

On October 19, 1939, she signed a 15-year mutual assistance pact with Great Britain and France, designed to preserve the present territorial and political status in the eastern Mediterranean and Balkans.

At the same time Turkey refused to sign a Soviet-inspired pact which, according to the most reliable information available, would have forbidden passage of the Dardanelles by Allied warships and thereby insured Russia against attack through the Black Sea or interference with Russian transport of war materials to Germany via Rumania.

In addition to the Anglo-French loans and credits, foreign affairs analysts believe Turkey's decision was influenced by:

1. A growing fear that Soviet Russia had returned to czarist empire expansion policies and had its eye on the Dardanelles. Turkey decided that, under existing circumstances, she would receive help in defending the straits from the Allies, but would get no assistance from Germany.

2. The fact that Germany was unable to purchase and transport Turkish commodities because of the British blockade.

3. Strictly military considerations, including the fact that Germany had no common border with Turkey whereas the British and French could attack her by sea or through Syria and Iraq.

Young People's Society of West Park Elects Officers

The 50th meeting of the Young People's Society of West Park was held on Tuesday evening, January 16. Election of officers was held for the new year and the following were elected: President, Brother Herbert of the Order of the Holy Cross; vice-president, George Rosemeyer; secretary-treasurer, Carrie Ackert; head of social affairs, Marcia Buddington.

A girls' athletic committee was chosen which consists of Shirley Buddington, Mary Marvegi and Marjorie Mott. The athletic committees hope to have some basketball games in the near future.

YW to Hold Annual Meeting on Tuesday

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Young Women's Christian Association will be held Tuesday, January 23, at the Y. W. C. A. building on Henry street.

The meeting and election will follow the annual dinner served at 6:30 o'clock. During the meeting annual reports will be given and the election of eight members to the board of directors will be announced. Members of the Y. W. C. A. throughout the city have been asked to cast their ballots at the results of which will be announced on Tuesday.

The guest speaker for the evening will be the Rev. William H. Alderson of Bridgeport, Conn. The Rev. Mr. Alderson recently came to Bridgeport from New York city where he was the presiding elder of the New York city district of Methodist churches. He is an inspirational and witty speaker. The Rev. Mr. Alderson will speak on "At the Fork of the Road."

A short musical program will also be given by the Oratorio Society which will sing a group of two numbers.

All members and friends of the Y. W. C. A. planning to attend the supper are asked to make their reservations at the Y. W. C. A. office not later than Monday at noon. Those who cannot attend the dinner are invited to come at 7:30 for the meeting and program.

Business Girls' Travelogue

The members of the Business Girls' Club of the Y. W. C. A. enjoyed a travelogue to the west coast at the meeting Wednesday evening. Miss Miriam Halloran was the speaker and took the club across the continent and to the Golden Gate Exposition. Colored moving pictures of her trip were shown by A. J. Boyd, principal of School No. 5. The pictures showed not only the beauty spots en route but also scenes at the San Francisco fair.

The regular supper meeting will be dispensed with next Wednesday as the members will attend the annual supper and meeting of the Y. W. C. A. on Tuesday. However, members will hold an ice skating party at Williams Lake on Wednesday, leaving the Y. W. at 7:30 o'clock.

Girls' Reserve Service

The annual recognition service of the Girl Reserves of the Y. W. C. A. will be held Sunday afternoon at the "Y" at 2:30 o'clock. The group will be addressed by Superintendent Arthur J. Laidlaw, who will speak on "Life and Its Responsibilities." Friends of the Girl Reserve members are invited to attend this inspiring service of recognition when new members are received into the Y. W. C. A. circle.

To Be Honored

MRS. ERNEST RENN

A reception in honor of Mrs. Ernest Renn, newly installed worthy matron of Kingston Chapter, No. 135, Order of the Eastern Star, will be held Friday evening at the Masonic Temple. Miss Beatrice Spiegel, associate matron, who is in charge of the reception, promises a delightful and entertaining evening. All Eastern Star members and Master Masons are cordially invited to attend.

Sorority Meeting

The Sigma Delta Chi sorority will meet this evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Jack Lifshin, 194 Wall street.

Supper Party

Saugerties, Jan. 17—An enjoyable party was held at the Wheel Inn on Sunday evening, January 14, in honor of the birthday of George Whittaker. A spaghetti supper was served after which the guests danced old fashioned square sets and modern dances. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. George Whittaker and daughter, Gladys, Mr. and Mrs. George Van Bramer and daughter, Dorothy, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pisano, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beers, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Van Valkenburg, Miss Julia Klementis, Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Staccio, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Law, Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Perpeto, Mrs. Sarah Meyers, Leroy Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keefe, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Staccio and son, Charles Jr., Mrs. Agnes Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Pfisterer and daughter, Vera, Theodore Carlson, Jr., Bert Wroten, George Wilbur, George Hommel, Clifford Wolven.

Albertson-Downs

Marlborough, Jan. 18—Miss Susan Downs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Downs of Suffern, became the bride of Chester Albertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Albertson of Marlborough, Saturday evening, December 30. The ceremony was performed in the rectory of the Sacred Heart Church of Suffern by the Rev. Stephen Secore. Miss Margaret Downs, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The groom was attended by Charles Hockmuth of Thiells. A reception followed.

Engagement Announced

To Win Socially Know Etiquette Rules

Don't Embarrass Your Escort

What sort of girl does a boy like to take places? A girl whose manners are poised, who doesn't create awkward moments.

But the girl in our picture isn't like that, you see! She doesn't know who enters a theatre first—she or her escort—and how she embarrasses him!

So easy to learn the correct thing ahead of time, to check on other etiquette points, too.

At the entrance to the theatre the girl goes first, the man follows and gives the tickets to the doorman. If there is no usher, the man goes ahead to find a seat, but stands aside to let the girl enter the row first.

And the socially-experienced girl never "takes charge" on a date. At a restaurant, the man does the ordering after learning the girl's wishes. If he is taking her home in a taxi, she tells him her address, lets him inform the driver. And how smooth she makes her escort feel by letting him open doors, assist with wraps.

Yes, boys gravitate to the girl who is gracious and smooth-mannered, so brush up on the etiquette rules given in our 32-page booklet. Tells what's correct at dances, college proms, on house parties, dates, other occasions. Gives advice, too, on the petting question, office behavior.

Send 10 cents in coin for your copy of ETIQUETTE FOR YOUNG MODERNS to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Service, 635 Sixth Ave., New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

Cancelling an Engagement For a "Date"

A rule of good manners, which every one at some time or another would like to evade, is presented by a young girl in Chicago who asks, "If a girl has already made an engagement to go to the movies with several girl friends, when a boy asks her for a date for the same evening is she being rude in cancelling her engagement with the girls and going with the boy? I mean are there no exceptions to the rule that an engagement made is an engagement to be kept no matter how many more attractive things present themselves after making it? I'm in Dutch with these girl friends because I changed my mind about them and went out with a boy. But I'll bet each one of the other girls would have done the same thing. However, I'd like to know whether you think I was wrong."

Answer: That a first engagement may not be thrown aside for a second more attractive one is one of the really important rules of proper behavior. In this instance, it is true, there were several girls who could go to the movies quite well without you, and you did not spoil the evening for any one as you would have done had you deserted one girl alone. All the same, you were in the wrong on three counts: Not only did you break a rule of courtesy, but you gave the girls a chance to call you "boy crazy." Third, if the boy ever hears you did this for him he won't even be flattered—he'll agree with the girls and think you just a little cheap. As a matter of fact, you may very well have lost a chance to make a lasting impression by saying, "I'm sorry I can't go tonight because I've promised Jane and Mary and Alice to go with them. But I'd love to go with you if you'll ask me some other time!" If this situation comes up again, this is what I think you should do—if you want to be thought well of.

Breaking Your Sister of Bad Habits

Dear Mrs. Post: My sister is fifteen years old; time to grow up and have some manners. She is such a little smart-aleck that she really embarrasses me terribly by the things she says to my friends. They laugh or listen to her, but I don't believe they think she's funny. What can we do to break her of this habit?

Answer: If she is merely playing to the gallery, then ask your friends to help you by paying no attention to her. If her motive is a mischievous one—if her object is to tease and disconcert—the answer is the same. She will grow equally tired of "playing to an empty house," or of shooting arrows that never hit anything.

Mrs. Post is sorry she can no longer answer personal letters.

She is glad however to have many printed slips on a variety of subjects to offer to her readers. Today's slip is "An Etiquette Test." ## Small Gains Were Made Wednesday

Stock generally held firm Wednesday and closed irregularly higher, but gains were small and taken with the reduced volume—470,000 shares and lowest for a full day since December 4—had little meaning so far as indicating trends was concerned. Industrials in the Dow-Jones list had a net gain of .14, to 145.81; rails gained .08, to 30.41 and utilities lost .06, to 25.14.

Commodities were stronger, the index regaining most of Tuesday's loss, with wheat and silk strong. Silk gained as much as 21 cents a pound, against losses of 25 cents Tuesday. Wheat at Chicago advanced sharply in final hour of trading, futures closing up 1 1/2 to two cents a bushel. Following a sharp rally in Liverpool cotton closed six points higher to three lower. In the domestic market raw sugar was quiet, with offers on a duty-paid basis of 2.95 cents.

On the basis of its old fixed charges Baltimore & Ohio R. R. will show a deficit in 1939, after charges of around $1,600,000. President Willard said yesterday. This would compare with a deficit of $1,242,530 in 1938. The road has traffic 15 to 18 per cent above the low levels of a year ago, but had heavy expenses, the past year bringing equipment up to a point where bad order cars are but four per cent of the total, one of the lowest percentages obtainable.

Preliminary reports show Chesapeake & Ohio had net earnings of $26,211,568, equal after preferred dividends, to $3.34 on common, for year ended December 31. Comparatives with net of $20,192,650 in preceding year.

ICC yesterday issued its final plan of reorganization for the Missouri Pacific Railroad System. Total capitalization is reduced from $671,205,664, to $560,478,900 and fixed interest is reduced from $24,770,052, to $27,866,904 annually. Old common and preferred stockholders are entirely excluded under the new plan.

The court docket in the Erie R. R. reorganization case is just two years old today. Report of electric output in the U. S. for the week ended January 13 showed further gains, with an increase of 1.2 per cent above the like week last year.

Endicott Johnson Corp., shoe manufacturers, had net of $1,611,268 in year ended November 30, equal after preferred dividends to $3.07 each on 405,360 shares of common stock. Compares with net in previous year of $857,191, or $2.11 on common. American Agricultural Chemical's net of $132,039 for six months to December 31 compares with net of $33,171 in like 1938 period.

Dividend announcements include: Lord & Taylor, $1.50 on six per cent preferred and $2 on the eight per cent second preferred. Barnsdall Oil, 15 cents on common. Continental Oil, 25 cents on common. General Foods, regular quarterly of 50 cents. Lowe's, Inc., $1.62 1/2 on $6.50 preferred. R. H. Macy & Co., 50 cents on common. Pacific Portland Cement Co., $1 on preferred stock arrearage, which amounted to $39.25 a share at the end of the year. Pullman Co., 25 cents a share.

Downturn Expected
Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—The Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported today that an industrial downturn was expected during the first half of 1940, but that it was not likely to be prolonged or severe. Officials emphasized that commodity prices appeared to be "less vulnerable" than on some other occasions when the industrial situation was similar. They pointed out that commodity prices had fallen to respond to the 1938-39 recovery in industrial activity and consumer income until the outbreak of war in Europe.

Prisoner's Glad He's Recaptured

New York, Jan. 18 (AP)—Shivering and "darn near frozen to death," Silvio Mazzi, 17, one of four prisoners who smashed their way out of the Queens county jail last night, was recaptured today as he attempted to enter his tenement home in Brooklyn.

"Well, I'm glad to see you," Mazzi said, as police with drawn guns closed in on him. "We were fools to make the break. We darned near froze to death."

One of the officers aiding in the capture was Edgar Smith, a keeper for 20 years, who was suspended by Mayor LaGuardia after a preliminary investigation of the escape.

Mazzi, denying knowledge of the whereabouts of the others, told police that two of the young jailbreakers were severely injured in dropping to the roof of a shanty adjoining the jail, from the end of a blanket "rope" which they let down from a fourth-floor window.

Local Death Record

Mrs. Lillian Carter of 55 Payson avenue, New York city, died early last evening in Philadelphia, after a short illness. She was a former resident of Kingston. Surviving is her husband, Charles D. Carter of New York city and one brother, Floyd Weeks of Kingston, also two nieces. Funeral arrangements later.

The funeral of David Wilkins was held from the Wolf Funeral Home, 340 Broadway, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Services were conducted by the Rev. C. J. Gadsden of the Foxhall Avenue A. M. E. Church. The services were largely attended by friends of the deceased. The casket bearers were Jessie Davis, Columbus Redmond, Lee Thomas and Leonard Jackson. The remains were laid to rest in the family plot in Mt. Zion cemetery.

Marlborough, Jan. 18.—Funeral services were held on Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock from the home and at 10 o'clock from St. Mary's Church for the late Charles Brogan, well-known local resident, who died following an illness of about a year. Mr. Brogan, who was an expert steam shovel operator, for years was employed by Sam Rosoff, New York subway contractor. Surviving are one son and his wife, Sadie Brogan. Burial was in the Lattingtown cemetery under the direction of H. S. Tuthill & Son.

Mrs. Effie E. Bennett Van Valkenburgh, widow of George W. Van Valkenburgh, died at her home, 24 Downs street, this morning. Her funeral will be held Saturday at 10:30 a. m. from the chapel of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street. Burial will be in Phoenixia. Surviving are two sons, Walter A. Van Valkenburgh of Lansville and Clifford S. Van Valkenburgh of Kingston; two daughters, Inez M. Buley and Emma A. Gibson; two brothers, Edwin L. Bennett of Tarrytown and Rupert R. Bennett of Phoenixia; three sisters, Margaret Collins of Queens Village, Louise A. Jones of Cloister, N. J., and Dora A. Longyear of Jewett.

The Rev. William P. Dooley, pastor of Holy Name Church, Wilbur, celebrated a high Mass of requiem for the repose of the soul of Mrs. Angelina Naccarato, of 320 Wilbur avenue this morning at 9:30. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends at the services. While the remains reposed in the family home friends called to extend their sympathy to the bereaved members of the family. A profusion of floral offerings were placed near the casket. Spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards were numerous. The casket bearers were: Patsey Tiano, John Naccarato, John Pfeiffer, James Fuco, John Fuco and Fred Schiskie. A large funeral cortege accompanied the remains to St. Mary's cemetery where the Rev. Father Dooley pronounced the final absolution as the remains were laid to rest.

David W. Boyd, a well known and highly respected resident of this city, died last evening following a long illness. He was born in this city the son of the late John and Eliza Williamson Boyd. For many years he was a valued employee of the U. S. D. R. Co., but the past few years he had been employed as a bookkeeper for the Apollo Magneto Co. By his genial disposition and friendly ways he had endeared himself to a very large circle of friends. He was a member of Rondout Lodge No. 343, F. & A. M., Kingston Chapter No. 155, O. E. S., where he served as patron for seven years, after which he was assistant to the grand lecturer for one year.

He was a veteran of the Spanish-American War, serving with the Old Co. M., 10th Regt., 14th Separate Co., and after the war served as sergeant of Co. M., 10th Regt., 14th Separate Co. Surviving besides his wife, who was Anna Rodman, he leaves three sisters, Miss Frances Boyd, Mrs. Annabelle Stanley and Mrs. Walter Wright, all of Lake Katrine. The funeral will be held from his late home, 83 Orchard street, Saturday afternoon at 2:30. Burial in the family plot in Montrose cemetery.

Gibbstown Blast Called Accident

Gibbstown, N. J., Jan. 18 (AP)—Explosion of three tons of nitroglycerine at the Repaupo plant of the duPont Powder Works, killing two men and injuring five, was put down today as an accident.

"I see no reason to suspect sabotage," declared Colonel Mark O. Kimberling of the state police. That possibility drew attention of both state police and the federal bureau of investigation immediately after yesterday's mid-morning blast. The duPont Company manufacturers war materials at some plants.

The explosion shattered windows and jarred buildings for miles around. Thousands in Philadelphia, 13 miles north, rushed from homes and buildings fearing an earthquake.

A ten-foot deep crater, resembling a battlefield shellhole, was torn in the frozen ground where stood a small building devoted to processing nitroglycerine.

Little was left of the structure or the two men inside—Earl Leslie Harbison, 30, Clayton, N. J., and Edward M. Bundens, Jr., 29, Paulsboro, N. J. Injuries to others at work in the vicinity were slight.

A duPont Company spokesman, explaining the local plant is devoted exclusively to products for industrial uses, discounted the idea of sabotage. Guards are stationed at the plant gate, he said, but only to keep townspeople and others at a safe distance.

A victim, employee, recalling that 22 lives have been taken at the Repaupo plant since January 15, 1916, declared: "The story is always the same. Some one made a mistake."

Kingston High Cage Varsity Edges Middletown Five by 27-25

Flowers' Field Wins Over-Time DUSO Loop Game

Visitors' Rally Almost Upsets Maroon String—K. H. S. at Liberty on Friday

In the greatest exhibition of his cage career Harry Flowers, Kingston High School right forward, lifted his club into undisputed position of first place in the DUSO League at the municipal auditorium last night as the Maroon clipped Middletown, 27 to 25. The Middies, offering a three star brand of opposition, nearly turned the trick in the last quarter.

With only 500 in the stands the Maroon and White warriors brought home the bacon once again, but this time with not too much to spare. The Kiasmen in trimming the Middies last night preserved their long home streak which now is at 38. Flowers clinched the battle for the locals in a "sudden death" quarter after Middletown had gone into the lead.

Middletown, high in spirits after its surprising win last week, had Kingston on the run in the third and fourth chukkers. Continuously the Blue and White warriors stalked into the driver's seat but had to relinquish it to Kingston after Harry Flowers started to move. Before the final period got under way Kingston moved to a 19 to 15 lead and those four markers looked none too safe.

Then the Middle bombshell struck. The Middies fired in with two fields while the Kiasmen were limited to one. Keeping a close watch on the scoreboard Scott MacVittie slashed through the Kingston defense and anchored in with a layup to give his club a two-point margin. Then Flowers returned to push in the equalizer, putting the tally at 25-all. An extra period was necessary.

From a melee under the Middletown net Bill Strubel grabbed the calfskin and scooted it to Harry Flowers who was in mid-court. Flowers cut the net for the two winning points.

While Flowers topped the Maroon in scoring, the locals were paced again on the floor by Ray Lindhorst, the roving center. Ray's height was a big advantage especially when he grabbed the oval under the enemy nets. For Middletown Norm MacCormack and Garry Herman stood out with nine points apiece besides offering a good brand of defensive play.

The locals meet their last bit of real opposition for the first round on Friday when they travel to Liberty. The Kiasmen will be slight favorites to whip the Tribe.

In the prelim the Maroon Jayvees routed the Gems in easy fashion by 38 to 15. The junior varsity led all the way.

Campus Quintet Trims 156th, 26-21

The Campus Five defeated the soldiers of Headquarters Battery, 156th Field Artillery, at the National Guard armory by the score 26-21.

The Campus shooters held a slight lead over the artillerymen during the first half of the game, closing that period with a five point lead. In the third quarter the soldiers rallied to end the quarter with a one-point lead over the Campus tossers, 19-18. In the final period, however, the Campus boys found the hoop for four baskets to the soldiers' one ducce to end the game 26-21.

Murphy took the scoring honors for the Campus quintet with a total of 12 points, while Nock led the way for the soldiers with seven points.

Hopper Bridges Canfield 100-48

Bill Hopper, the riding master, saddled John Canfield and drove him to a quick 100-48 defeat in their city pocket billiard tournament match last night. Hopper lost no time in riding to the front. A run of 22 and several of a rack or more kept him there, while Canfield whose best effort was 13 missed frequently and never was in the game. The game was one of the fastest ever played in a tournament, taking less than an hour.

Tonight young Dave Brooks meets Tony Pino who is making a comeback after two or three years of inactivity in the tournament field.

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 18 (AP).—Managers of three National League clubs—two of them pre-season pennant contenders—reluctantly forecast today clear weather ahead for the 1940 edition of the St. Louis Cardinals.

"I was hoping somebody would trade 'em out of some of their players," sighed William (Memphis Bill) Terry, field boss of the New York Giants. "They look too tough right now."

"The Cardinals," avowed Terry's fellow Memphian, Manager James (Doc) Phythro of the Philadelphia Phillies, "should win by 10 games. They've got a ball club that will give the Yankees all they want."

The St. Louis bandwagon picked up a burst of speed yesterday when Gabby Hartnett, Chicago Cub pilot, named the Cards as his choice for the National League flag.

"But," Gabby warned, "we're going to be up there, too." The veteran catcher-manager is in Hot Springs, Ark., working off surplus poundage.

Terry admitted his Giants were definitely interested in the future of infielder Benny McCoy, cut loose recently from the Detroit Tigers by edict of baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis. He added, however, his club had made McCoy no offer.

"But we could use him ***. Not as a second baseman but as a third baseman or perhaps somewhere else. He's a left-handed hitter and they say he can really hit."

The Giants' boss said he might experiment with a young infield revolving around the veterans Bill Jurgas at short.

"I'm going to give Glenn Stewart a chance at third and use Nick Witek at second with Babe Young at first. But right now, Lou Chiozza is my No. 1 third baseman."

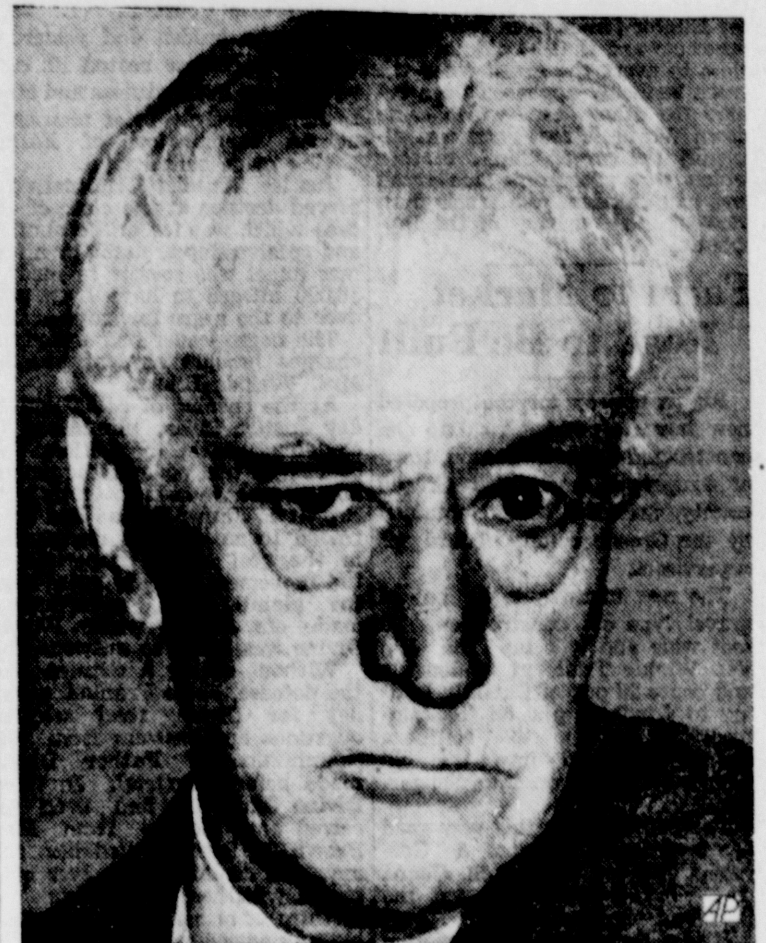

Terry said he planned to go to New York late this month.

"Got a few holdouts," he explained ruefully. "The boys think they finished in first place instead of fifth."

KENESAW MOUNTAIN LANDIS: The Judge Doesn't Budge Much.

(AP) Feature Service

Chicago—The little old man with the wavy white hair, the piercing eyes and the stern, cold countenance opened his mouth and the vast baseball empire that was Detroit's fell apart. In one sudden, swift stroke player talent worth around a half million dollars was cut loose from the strings the Tiger club held. No other sport has a leader whose authority compares with Kenesaw Mountain Landis' czar-like powers. He is the most feared man in sport. Millionaire club owners flinch nervously when a stern frown settles over the judge's forehead and his bushy grey eyebrows seem to grow larger.

Esopus Scouts Get New Charter

Troop 18 of Esopus held a charter presentation party at the Wiltwyck School Wednesday night. Ceremonies were held in the new chapel, with the boys of Troop 11, Kingston, participating. Scout Executive R. G. Burns presented the charter to Dr. T. W. B. Magnan, chairman of the troop committee. Edgar Freese, scoutmaster of Troop 11, presented certificates to Scoutmaster John Olbert and Assistant Scoutmaster James Moss. New scouts of Troop 18 were invested in a candlelight ceremony conducted by members of Troop 11, following which each scout received his membership card and tenderfoot pin.

In awarding the tenderfoot badges a scout from Troop 11 pinned the badge on a boy from Troop 18. The pin was placed on the uniform upside down and the new scout had to do a "good turn" when he turned the pin around and placed it in its proper position. Dr. Magnan welcomed the scouts and leaders from Kingston and invited them to visit his troop at any time and become acquainted with the scouts.

Jury Is Taken in $50,000 Action in Supreme Court

A jury was taken this morning in Supreme Court for trial of a $50,000 action brought by Fernand De Chambre of Hensonville and New York against Sidney R. Ball and William Furgang and Philip Cline. Plaintiff seeks damages for injuries suffered in a crash on October 31, 1938, at the junction of Hunter and Wurts street when a truck loaded with logs and the Plymouth sedan of Ball, driven by Furgang, collided.

Plaintiff claims that he suffered severe injuries and is permanently injured and that he also suffered damages for loss of business. He was engaged in the business of cosmetic manufacture.

DeChambre alleges he went to Catskill to buy certain furnishings for his place in Hensonville and found Furgang out. Mr. Ball asked him to return later to the store and he did. That afternoon with Furgang in the Ball car they drove to Suffern and were enroute home at the time the car of Ball driven by Furgang collided with the Cline truck which was about to make a left turn off Wurts street to Hunter street. The car was headed up the hill and the truck was headed south down the Wurts street hill. Plaintiff was injured when the cars collided and a log rolled off and struck the windshield of the Plymouth breaking it and injuring the plaintiff.

Cline alleges that the accident was caused by the reckless manner in which Furgang operated the car of Ball and Furgang and Ball claimed the accident was due to the fact that the truck cut across in front of the Plymouth without sufficient warning.

Ball and Furgang appear by Andrew J. Cook and the plaintiff by Charles Levy. Elinore Nathan appears for Cline. Cline, while named as a defendant, claims that he is not responsible for any damages and Ball denies liability for plaintiff's injuries on the grounds that while it was his car in which the plaintiff was riding with Furgang, that the two men DeChambre and Furgang were using the car in a joint enterprise. Ball claims that Furgang and DeChambre had gone to Suffern for the purpose of seeing some person on the matter of sale of a bill of cosmetics and that Furgang had made such arrangement with the plaintiff and was interested in the project.

Cline contends that the crash was due to the excess speed of Furgang as he drove over the bridge and started up Wurts street and that the crash was not due to the operation of his truck. Furgang claims the crash took place above the intersection of Wurts and Hunter street and that the Cline truck turned left to enter Hunter street from behind another car and that he did not have time to avert the crash when the truck suddenly appeared from behind the other car which came down Wurts street and was allegedly the car of Cline's brother which was proceeding the truck and had hidden the truck from view of the driver of the Plymouth.

Farm to Market Road to Be Built

Rights of way for the proposed new farm to market road to be constructed between Saxton, town of Saugerties, and Cairo, Greene county, are now being obtained by the Greene county board of supervisors.

The new highway is to be of gravel type of construction, 30 feet wide and will tap the Rip Van Winkle Trail at Palenville and route 23 out of Catskill, leading to Windham and on to Stamford. At Saxton, the southern end, it will lead into the old King's road and on into Saugerties.

The contract for this new road has been let to Oneglia & Gervasin, Inc., of Torrington, Conn., whose bid of $310,840.72 was the lowest of nine submitted.

It is expected that construction will start as early in the spring as weather conditions will permit.

Appeal Is Made

New York, Jan. 18 (AP)—An appeal to Mayor LaGuardia for police protection for coal deliveries "in the interest of public health" was made today by the real estate board of New York as the winter's coldest temperatures marked the second day of a city-wide coal handler's strike. John Schreiber, retail coal co-ordinator for New York, said coal dealers also were planning an appeal to Mayor LaGuardia to intervene in the paralyzing strike. Schreiber said a survey showed coal deliveries in the four affected boroughs—Manhattan, the Bronx, Brooklyn and Queens—were between 90 and 95 per cent tied up.

Divine Rests His Case, Does Not Give Testimony

The month-long trial of the suit brought by a former angel against Father Divine, negro cult leader, in Supreme Court in New York came to a sudden end yesterday when the defense rested its case without calling a witness and after reading merely a brief transcript of an examination of Father Divine made before trial.

Justice Benedict L. Dineen reversed decision at the close of the case which was for an accounting and receivership brought by a former angel who sought to recover $6,000 alleged to have been paid over to the negro for safekeeping. The negro leader has denied the charges brought against him by Mrs. Verinda Brown.

At the opening of court yesterday Justice Dineen eliminated 78 co-defendants in the action. The court held that none of the money alleged to have been given by Mrs. Brown to Father Divine had been traced to an ultimate destination in the real estate properties of the movement, but he ruled that the plaintiff had, nevertheless, made out a case which Father Divine was bound to answer.

Without calling a witness for the defense, Kevin Frankel, attorney for Divine, read selected questions and answers from the examination of Father Divine made before the trial. In these Divine denied he had ever received any moneys from Mrs. Brown, or having asked her for any, and denied having ever conferred with her concerning the investment of her money or offering any advice on the matter.

When Mr. Frankel finished reading, William W. Lowell, attorney for Mrs. Brown, read excerpts from his cross-examination of Divine. Under this cross-examination the negro still denied having taken money from Mrs. Brown, but admitted he had visited her at the home of her employer, Ordway Tead, chairman of the board of higher education, and also admitted he had been told that certain furniture in the Sayville, L. I. heaven had been given by Mrs. Brown.

Power Is No More

New Orleans, Jan. 18 (AP)—Returns of Tuesday's Democratic primary clearly indicate the power will be stripped from the regime set up in Louisiana 12 years ago by the late Huey P. Long even if Huey's brother, Earl K. Long, goes in as chief executive. Still incomplete returns from the first primary gave Long a commanding lead over Attorney Sam Jones of Lake Charles but he lacked a majority over Jones and the three other "reform" candidates. All indications pointed to a second primary February 20. Long scoffed at Jones' chances but said he would start a runoff campaign tomorrow, if necessary. Jones planned to get back on the stump Saturday.

Claim Upheld

Philadelphia, Jan. 18 (AP)—Mrs. Lela Ilder McFadden today held a third of the $131,744 estate of her husband whom she had not seen in more than 40 years prior to his death last January. McFadden did not leave a will and a move was started to escheat his estate to the commonwealth when Mrs. McFadden appeared and claimed he had left her and two children in Camden, N. J., in 1886. Her claim was upheld here yesterday.
